Hello Everyone!

As we move into the summer and the country is carefully opening up, I am delighted to see people returning to Knock once again. It's great to see signs of life in our churches, shops and streets. Please God, if we are all vigilant, we can see further restrictions lifting as we progress.

We have put on an extra Mass for parishioners on Sunday mornings at 10am in the Basilica starting this weekend to make it easier for you to attend. The 7.30pm Saturday evening Mass is also easy to get to without any queues. First Communion and Confirmation for the parish will take place in the Autumn, dates will be announced later in the summer when we have an idea if greater numbers can be allowed to attend. The National Novena will be taking place this year and we are currently looking at how it will be celebrated.

I hope you all get some much needed rest and holidays over the summer – a change from living in an almost monastic state for the last 6 months! I also look forward to seeing you all return to Mass once again – you have been missed!

Take care and have a great summer,

Fr Richard
